LA WALL NO history of Scranton and its prominent men would be complete without Elmer H. Law all. Holds the big job of treasurer for the International Correspondence Schools and has held it almost since the company was founded. Does the work so well that he has become as much a part of the institution as the name itself. No man is better liked by the thousands of employes of the schools and no man is fairer and squarer in his treatment of them. Prominent in Wilkes-Barre, too, where he has his home. Finds time to play golf for recreation and few men on the Country Club links here or in Wilkes-Barre play a better game. WILLIAM P. HUESTER THE middle letter stands for Prince, and every one over on the South Side will tell you that William P. Huester is a Prince of...

Reviews

Extensive information for book fans. It is written in basic words and never hard to understand. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.
