Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Social, Industrial, Political, and Co-Operative Associations, Etc: In New South Wales, Australia The following pages contain a list of the industrial, co-operative, friendly and benefit, political, social, scientific, and monetary institutions established in New South Wales. The list has been compiled to illustrate the interest and activity of the people of this community in such matters. It will be observed from a perusal of the lists that the trades and labour organisations, the friendly and co-operative associations, and the building societies are exceptionally strong, while with regard to scientific bodies the people of New South Wales are also well provided for. The capitalistic associations, though few in number, are rich in resources and powerful in influence. As is to be expected in a country where free speech, manhood suffrage, and vote by ballot prevail, the political forces are varied and numerous. New South Wales presents an interesting study for all who take an interest in sociology and politics, for here many problems which still vex older communities have been solved, and doctrines once considered dangerous to society have been applied with beneficial results to mankind. In no part of the world is the eight-hour system more successfully worked. State socialism enters largely into our machinery of government. The railways, tramways, postal and telegraphic communication, and a labour bureau are all worked and controlled by the State. Courts of Conciliation and Arbitration are now established by law. Our system of vote by ballot has been copied in Great Britain and the United States. Manhood suffrage, after thirty-six years trial, is still the law of the land, the tendency being to extend it by the adoption of...
